Notorious Gossip

"It's no use," said the director to his colleague, "I'll have to get a new typist."
"Pity," said his colleague, "Miss Jones always seemed a nice, obliging sort of girl."
"Oh, she's all that. But she will keep interrupting me when I'm dictating to ask me how to spell words."
"That certainly is a great waste of time."
"I don't object to that," explained the director, "but it looks so bad to have to keep saying I don't know."

Very red in the face and slightly out of breath, Tommy arrived home from school, pushing his bicycle.
"Well, Tommy, what has happened to your bicycle?" enquired his mother.
"Nothing very serious," replied Tommy, "my front tyre is punctured, that's all."
"Punctured, not punctuated," corrected his mother gently.
"Anyhow, mother," replied Tommy with conviction, "I came to a full stop!"

"My dear John, what ever are you taking those umbrellas with you to town for?" exclaimed the Professor's wife hurrying out into the hall. "Surely one will be enough for you?"
The old Professor smiled through his glasses at his wife.
"You see, Martha, I am sure to leave one in the bus; the second will be sure to be left in the restaurant; and the third will come in very handy should it come on to rain to-night," replied the old Professor, toddling towards the door.

The little girl walked sedately across the room, holding a doll by one arm, and placed her hand on her mother's lap.
"Mummy, can I have those grapes on the sideboard?" she lisped.
"Yes, dear, if you like," smiled her mother indulgently.
"Oh, thank you, mummy," cried the little girl, clapping her hands. "I'm so glad you said 'Yes.'"

"Why, dear, are you very hungry?" exclaimed her mother in surprise.
"It isn't exactly that, mummy," replied the little girl demurely. "But, you see, I have eaten them already!"

FAR EASTERN SITUATION

Mr. Frank Kellogg's Views

Washington, Dec. 13.
"The Far Eastern situation is not menacing at all; I do not see anything to indicate war there; and I do not see anything in Japan's movements in China that violates the Nine-Power Treaty," stated Mr. Frank B. Kellogg, in the course of an interview.
Mr. Kellogg added that he saw nothing to justify the belief that another great war was imminent; the fact was that much of the unrest in the world was due to economic causes.

ITALIAN DISPUTE
Referring to the Italo-Ethiopian dispute, Mr. Kellogg strongly condemned Italy, for whom, he said, there was no excuse whatever, but he did not believe in any kind of sanctions. He saw no necessity for further legislation on the American neutrality question.

Governor George Earle, and Senator Guffey of Pennsylvania conferred with Mr. Cordell Hull, Secretary of State, to-day. It was stated afterwards that the

RAVINE MURDER MYSTERY

Doctor Committed For Trial

London, Dec. 13.
Dr. Buck Ruxton, of Dalton Square, Lancaster, was to-day committed for trial charged with having murdered Mary Jane Rogerson and Isabella Ruxton, his wife.
These two women disappeared under peculiar circumstances some weeks before Dr. Ruxton's arrest and shortly after they vanished the bodies of two unidentified persons were found, dismembered, in a gorge within a few miles of Dr. Ruxton's home.

Mary Jane Rogerson was a young serving woman in the Ruxton home and it had been thought that she was visiting her family when she no longer appeared at the place of her employment. Mrs. Ruxton was thought to have been visiting her sister at a seaside town.

It was not until the findings of the bodies in the gorge that police came to the conclusion that it might be wise to investigate Mrs. Ruxton's and Miss Rogerson's whereabouts. Neither could be found.

An examination of the bodies then confirmed the police suspicion that they were of the two women who had mysteriously disappeared from Dr. Ruxton's home. The doctor himself could give no explanation. He was consequently charged.

At preliminary hearings he was hysterical and interrupted the court with imprecations and wild denials, but at the more recent proceedings he was relatively calm.

When the Lancaster magistrate committed him for trial to-day at the Manchester Assizes, there was no outburst. He pleaded not guilty.

The prosecution called over 100 witnesses and the exhibits numbered more than 200.

Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press" (Copyright.)

Geneva, Dec. 13.
Answering the Abyssinian Government's request that the League of Nations Council be assembled immediately, the League of Nations General Secretary had telegraphed the Negus on Friday night, pointing out that the Council had already convened to meet next Wednesday to consider the proposals made by both the Governments. In view of this circumstance the Council's President considers it expedient to await the result of Wednesday's deliberations, before deciding on the Abyssinian motion.

question of neutrality was discussed. Details of the conversation were not revealed, but it is believed that the talk related to the suggested embargo on coal and oil.

"FRIENDSHIP"

Bishop Hall Makes Strong Appeal for Society for the Protection of Children

At St. Johns Cathedral on Sunday morning Bishop Hall preached to a large congregation, the following sermon:—

Jesus said "You are my friends. I have treated you as friends. I have kept back no part of the price. All that the Father has told me I have told you."

Jesus was a man of action. He did not say words and leave it there. His greatest act of friendship was Calvary. He trusted the love of his friends enough to hurl them against the power of Rome and the power of the high priest. They recall broken. On the road Emmaus he pleads with them to understand why His friendship had gone to such lengths, why He had to face them with Calvary. Before His death He had said "All that the Father has shown me I have shown you." His obedience to God on Calvary showed men and God alike that He understood the inmost secret of the Father's heart. On the Emmaus road he pleads in eager friendship that they will understand.

The friendship of Christ then is a dangerous thing. I read yesterday these words:—

"Stretch me on Thy greatness."

Lord,
Who am mean and small,
Fashion me relentlessly
That I grow more tall.

Brim me with Thy fullness, Lord
Till these shallows grow
Wide and deep and bountiful
With Love's overflow."

That is what it means to be called a friend of Jesus Christ. He will draw out of you the same spirit of courage and faith and daring that is in His own heart. That is what it means to be called His friend.

OUR FRIENDS
Have you stopped to think about the letters and the Christmas cards, you have been sending off in the last few weeks to your friends? Where are they now? It may be, perhaps in Colombo two ships are berthed side by side, one carrying a message from you to your friend in England and the other bringing his message of friendship to you from England to Hong Kong. I see that eleven thousand men are to get an extra month's work in England because of friendship, because you and I and everyone else will remember our friends this month.

The Post Office is not big enough to carry the burden of Christmas friendship without this extra help. These cards and letters and parcels which for thirty days eleven thousand extra men will handle are outward and visible signs of something that exists all the time. The spirit of friendship which goes from friend to friend is always a living bond. The commerce of friendship is unseen except perhaps at Christmas time or when we meet, but it is there.

As surely as Gulliver was pinned to the ground by countless tiny threads, so our lives are linked to many other lives by ties of friendship.

PRACTICAL FRIENDSHIP
There are three things I would say to you this morning about friendship as our Lord understood it. I lived it and taught it. The first is the difference between practical friendship and sentimental friendship. The Priest and the Levite were men no doubt of good will. Their hearts were torn probably by the suffering of their fellow countryman. They attended meetings and organized collections and preached with pitiful sentimentality about the needs of the poor, but they kept that sentiment wrapped up in a napkin. They dared not trust it to the marketplace. They passed by on the other side. The lesson is quite clear. Friendship which is merely sentimental, which exists only in the invisible bonds of thought and imagination is always potentially unreal. It is not my white skin that makes me a brother to the Chinese people nor indeed my own blood relationship to the other sons and daughters of my parents that makes me their brother. Only if I act when they are in need and I can help them, only then is there a living bond between us only then am I their brother. Jesus is terribly clear about this: "Who is my neighbor?" "Who is it that is one with me in the family of God?" The answer is the picture of a Jew in need and an outcast Samaritan meeting that need. Friendship is either a fact or it is nothing. Sentimental good will wrapped up in a napkin is the most dispicable form of self-indulgence.

THE GOOD SAMARITAN TO-DAY

The second thing I must do is to bring the Good Samaritan out of the mists of time to the mirk of our Hong Kong slums.

I sat on Wednesday for an hour and a half in the cock loft of a tenement house.

To-morrow is the Annual Meeting of the Society for the Protection of Children. My guide into the slums was a modern Florence Nightingale, a worker for the Society for the Protection of Children. They call her not the Lady of the Lamp but the Lady of the Milk.

Seven bed spaces in the cock loft. Under the stairs an old lady of seventy who sells newspapers without a licence. She pays a dollar for her home, which is just floor space enough to lie on. Next to her two old ladies, one of them blind, share a bed which is their home each pays one dollar for her share. Then there was an old blind granny and a ten year old grand-son paying a dollar for a small space and earning two meals a day by begging scraps of rice and vegetables. In the corner was an empty place because husband and wife were both out working for fifty cents a day, if they are lucky. They have had two children and buried them both. The next bed space was rather larger. It cost $2.80 a month. The mother is just over forty but she looks sixty. There is no father. There are three daughters aged seven, twelve and ten. On my first visit there was no mother either—she was in prison for hawking without a licence. This mother and three daughters live by collecting waste vegetables and sorting out bits that are eatable and selling them again. It is a great tribute to the Chinese character that in the long days of the mother's imprisonment the three daughters came to no harm. At least to no harm more than is being done to them by their precarious means of livelihood.

The sixth space was occupied by a mother and daughter-in-law while the husband and his four young sons had another space down stairs. He has no work. I asked him why he did not go back to his own country. "We would starve there," he said, "there we can live by what the children bring in every day."

The seventh bed space was more hopeful. The man belongs to the privileged class. He has a hawker's licence. We were able to hand him the $4.00 to renew it and now he can earn twenty cents a day which he needs to feed himself and his wife without fear.

Do you remember what the Good Samaritan said to the Inn keeper? "Here is two pence. Whatsoever thou spendest more when I come again I will repay thee." Thank God the two pence has been put down in Hong Kong. Infant mortality has been reduced from six hundred to three hundred per thousand, but in that one cock loft alone there were four children supporting their parents by what they could pick up. These are our fellow citizens. What kind of training is this for fatherhood and motherhood in the future. God has guided us so far in the work of the Society for the Protection of Children. He is pointing us every on to more and more efforts in this name to make friendship and citizenship in this city a reality.

The S.P.C. have spent more. Are we willing like the Good Samaritan, to repay. Remember the words I read to you at the beginning.

"Stretch me on Thy greatness."

Lord,
Who am mean and small,
Fashion me relentlessly
That I grow more tall."

It is a dangerous thing to be called a friend of Christ unless we are willing to be stretched to His stature so we may keep pace with him on the Emmaus road.

UNAFRAID AND DETERMINED
It is a dangerous thing to be called a friend of Christ and yet there is no other safety. "He said 'In this world you shall meet danger, but be of good cheer I have overcome the world.'"

The great fact about life and about Christ is not our friendship

LOUIS-UZCUDEN FIGHT

Negro Scores A Knockout

New York, Dec. 14.

Joe Louis, the coloured boxer, gained a technical knockout over Paulino Uzcuden, the Spaniard, in the fourth round of their bout before a crowd of 21,000 spectators at the Madison Square Garden last night.

Both boxers opened cautiously in the first round, Uzcuden being the first to take the offensive by landing a blow to the body, following a left to the head. Louis, however, soon warmed up and scored with an upper-cut and left-jab, but the Spaniard covered up well.

The second round saw Uzcuden continue on the defensive, countering Louis' left in good style. Louis managed to land several left-jabs, but Uzcuden retaliated with a right to the body and a left to the jaw. "From this stage Louis attacked with a series of blows to the jaw, ending the round with a terrific right hook."

CAUTIOUS TACTICS

Both fighters sparred cautiously at the opening of the third round, then Louis led with a left and a right to the head. Uzcuden attempted to retaliate, but his blows were generally ill-timed and Louis landed another hard right hook. Uzcuden then twice scored with right-hooks, but Louis connected with a left to the Spaniard's face which was covered with blood as the result of Louis' constant jabbing. This was also Louis' round.

Louis opened the fourth round with a jab. Paulino then rushed in, madly, but received a left to the jaw. The Spaniard was usually covering up in a crouching position, but in attempting to lead he uncovered his jaw and the ever alert Negro crashed in a terrific right-hook which sent Uzcuden to the boards for a count of eight.

This blow opened an old scar over the left eye. Uzcuden staggered up with blood streaming down his face and chest, while Louis, eager for the "kill," landed a stiff left. The referee then immediately stopped the fight, awarding Louis the decision on a technical knockout.

GREATEST HEAVYWEIGHT

Louis confirmed the opinion that he is the greatest heavyweight in prospect. He shattered the usual cast-iron defence of Uzcuden, who was almost knocked out for the first time in his career.

Louis remained sphinx-like throughout the fight, ever looking for an opening, which was seized when Uzcuden raised his guard for a fraction of a second.

The crowd was astonished when the referee stopped the fight. Paulino was also surprised, although he was really in no condition to continue. He was still groggy after 20 minutes under a shower.

Interviewed by Reuter, he said: "Louis was the greater fighter. He will go a long way."

The spectators included Bradock, Carnera, Dempsey, Tunney and Jack McAuliffe, the British middleweight champion, who introduced the fighters from the ring.

It was repeated afterwards that the knockdown blow was a right to the jaw, which drove a tooth through the gum, necessitating two stitches. Uzcuden's face was so smothered with blood that at first it was thought that his eye was cut.

for God but His friendship for us. Christmas is the pledge of that friendship. God does not keep his good-will wrapped up in a napkin. He risks it in the commerce of the world. It came as a babe at Bethlehem—the whole heart of God unwrapped from the safety of the napkin to be trusted to the bank of life. He trades His friendship with us. He keeps back no part of the price.

And so we go forward to another chapter in the history of this City unafraid and determined. Unafraid because God who has begun a good work in us will perfect it unto the end. Determined because Jesus our Lord, our Master and our friend has set His face to go to Jerusalem and we must stretch our steps to keep pace with Him. We are unafraid and we are determined, but we are also eager that this friendship with Christ should make us worthy of our calling. May I read again the second verse of the little poem.

"Brim me with Thy fullness."

Lord,
Till these shallows grow
Wide and deep and bountiful
With Love's overflow."

THE WONDERFUL HERBAL OINTMENT

If your skin is sore, injured or diseased, Zam-Buk is the one remedy that can be depended upon to soothe and cure. Smarting pain, soreness and irritation are quickly ended by this famous Zam-Buk ointment. It has powerful (yet perfectly safe) antiseptic properties that destroy poison germs in wounds, sores, abscesses, ulcers, etc. It expels all bad matter and grows new skin.

Zam-Buk is so highly-refined that it soaks readily into the pores, purifying and healing in deeper tissues as well as the surface skin. The marvellous soothing and curative powers of Zam-Buk are due to its rare herbal origin, refinement and guaranteed freedom from animal fat. Never before without a box of Zam-Buk.

PARIS PEACE FORMULA TO END CONFLICT

Text Of Proposals

Rome, Dec. 13. The Anglo-French peace plan, the text of which has been issued here, is divided into two parts. The first concerns territorial exchange, and the second refers to the zone of economic concessions which it is proposed to grant to Italy.

The former proposes the cession to Italy of East Tigre, as bounded by a line drawn from north to south between Aksum and Adowa, leaving Aksum to Ethiopia and Adowa to Italy.

The frontier between Eritrea and Danakil is to be rectified as far as possible to the north and south between Aksum and Adowa, leaving Aksum to Ethiopia and Adowa to Italy.

Italy is likely to make reservations on the grounds that the terms are inadequate.

While official circles remain silent it is felt that new Franco-British peace proposals have been made, rather than improved, the proposals of peace.

They give Italy definitely less than was expected, and thus the chance of Signor Benito Mussolini's acceptance is decreased. If he does accept it will be with reservations of an important character.

There is general disappointment over the smallness of the territory yielded to Italy in the peace formula.

The proposed cession of the port of Assab will probably be strongly contested by Italy, while it is feared that the proposed zone of economic expansion would become a prey to Ethiopian infiltration and aggression. The agricultural and mineral potentialities of the zone, moreover, are largely unknown and it is uncertain whether the climate would be suited to European colonisers.

It is recognised, however, that the proposals are subject to variation.

ETHIOPIA'S ATTITUDE

Geneva, Dec. 13. An Ethiopian communication to the League of Nations on the Anglo-French peace plan, received to-day, technically neither accepts nor rejects the proposals, but makes complaints and reservations with regard to Ethiopia's sovereign rights.

Compliance with the Ethiopian appeal that the League Assembly should discuss the fairness of the proposals would take the question out of the hands of the Council, as the Assembly is the sovereign body of the League.

COUNCIL WILL REJECT

Geneva, Dec. 13. Despite the general hostility to the peace proposals, it is now considered most unlikely that the Council of the League will reject the plan, backed as it is by Great Britain and France.

It is believed it will be voted unanimously, but with some abstentions. But it will probably be possible to devise procedure which will avoid a straight vote.

It is believed that M. Pierre Laval, the French Prime Minister, and co-author of the plan, may recommend the appointment of a committee to examine the proposals, which will probably entail delay and might hold up the extension of embargoes against Italy.

BRITISH DECLARATION

Geneva, Dec. 13. The emphatic declaration by Mr. Anthony Eden, at the meeting of the Committee of Eighteen, to-day, that the British Government would not, in pursuit of the restoration of peace and the maintenance of the League's authority, and that it would continue to give all the assistance in its power to the work of the Committee, made a big impression.

The declaration is generally interpreted in the lobby as implying that the British Government has no intention of avoiding or delaying the extension of sanctions.

UNEMPLOYMENT RELIEF

(Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press" (Copyright).)

Paris, Dec. 13. The number of persons drawing unemployment relief in France increased by 17,200 to 416,700 in the week ending December 7—that is 31,800 more than at the same time last year.

"REDHEADS ON PARADE"

We have had pictures featuring blondes, both platinum and otherwise, pictures featuring brunettes and now, Redheads on Parade. The plot concerns an independent producer who seeks the backing of a millionaire hair dye manufacturer in order to finance a huge show which he wishes to put on. The manufacturer, played by Raymond Walburn, realizing the commercial value of popularizing redheads is prepared to pay $500,000.00 to have platinum blondes ousted from fashion.

A pleasing feature of the picture is John Boles as a dancer. One has become accustomed to associating him with singing roles but in this particular one he absolutely excels himself. He is ably supported by Dixie Lee, Jack Haley, William Austin, Alan Dinehart and Wilbur Mack.

Some very pleasing musical numbers include "I've Got your future all planned" and "Redheads on Parade."

"DIAMOND JIM"

Characters of the gay "nineties" the most colorful and romantic period in the history of the United States, come to life on the screen of the King's Theatre on Wednesday when Universal's special production, "Diamond Jim" starring Edward Arnold. The story deals with the life of James Buchanan Brady, the man who made the gay nineties gay, and is in reality the portrait of an era.

Arnold, who heads the cast, actually resembles the supermodel man who wore $2,000,000 worth of jewels who asked Lillian Russell to marry him and offered her a million dollar dowry, who made and lost fortunes while selling and manufacturing railroad equipment. Supporting him are Jean Arthur, blonde stage and screen star Binnie Barnes, as Lillian Russell, Cesar Romero, Hugh O'Connell, George Sidney, Eric Blore, Robert McWade and many other noted players, including a bevy of chorus girls.

"THE BIG BROADCAST OF 1936"

"The Big Broadcast Of 1936," now showing at the Queen's Theatre is an hilarious comedy romance set against the exciting background of radio. Jack Oakie and Henry Wadsworth, air entertainers, plan to enter an international broadcasting contest to save their radio station from bankruptcy. George Burns and his wife, Gracie Allen bring the boys their television invention, the Radio Eye. Lyda Roberti, rich, young and romantic-minded countess meets Oakie and Wadsworth and determines to marry one of them.

"THE LIVES OF A BENGAL LANCER"

A picture which combines magnificence, sheer spectacle, and breath-taking action with the poignance of human drama, Paramount's "The Lives of a Bengal Lancer" came to the Star Theatre yesterday to meet with an enthusiastic reception.

There have been any number of screen spectacles based on the lives and adventure of fighting men, but never one of the calibre of "The Lives of a Bengal Lancer." Over four years in the making, it employed more than four thousand actors in scenes shot in the mountain fastnesses of India and in five separate locations in California.

"The Big Broadcast Of 1936"

AT THE QUEEN'S

"The Big Broadcast Of 1936," which opened its season at the Queen's Theatre on Saturday is an hilarious comedy romance set against the exciting background of radio. Jack Oakie and Henry Wadsworth, air entertainers, plan to enter an international broadcasting contest to save their radio station from bankruptcy. George Burns and his wife, Gracie Allen bring the boys their television invention, the Radio Eye. Lyda Roberti, rich, young and romantic-minded Countess meets Oakie and determines to marry one of them. She kidnaps the boys to her mythical kingdom in Cuba where they are her prisoner guests until she can make up her mind which one to marry. Her social secretary, Wendy Barrie warns them of the Countess' dangerous henchman, C. Henry Gordon. In their frantic attempt to escape, they inadvertently compete in the radio contest when Oakie broadcasts for help with the Radio Eye. Many amusing complications are climaxed by a thrilling laugh-provoking chase. Specialty numbers are provided by Bing Crosby, Amos 'n' Andy, Ethel Merman, Ray Noble and his band, and Bill Robinson. Song hits include "I wished on the Moon," "The Animal in Me," "Why Dream," "Miss Brown to You," "Double Trouble," and "Why Stars Come Out At Night."

"Music is Magic"

"Music is Magic" opened its initial screening at the Alhambra Theatre on Saturday.

Lovers of this type of entertainment should not fail to pay a visit to the Theatre, as they certainly will be delighted to hear Alice Faye in some catchy numbers.

The story is somewhat on the lines of "George White's 1935 Scandals" in that it encircles around a troupe of vaudeville entertainers, who end up in a "flop." However they are persuaded to try their luck in Hollywood and so make the trip.

Miss Faye is lucky in obtaining a job as an extra, and at one of the rehearsals Miss Bebe Daniels continues with her act until the producer appears. By some clever work on the part of Ray Walker Miss Daniels is put off the set and Alice Faye is instituted in her place and from then onwards she sings her way to success—C.J.A.

"PEOPLE WILL TALK"

"PAPA, MAMA" paired in new home comedy.

Charlie Ruggles and Mary Boland are teamed as the grand old married couple of the screen for the ninth time in "People Will Talk," the new Paramount Comedy next attraction at the Queen's Theatre.

The pair who have impersonated the meek husband and domineering wife in such films as "Ruggles of Red Gap," "The Pursuit of Happiness," and a half dozen other Evelyn and Ted in their number "Dance of the Paper Dolls," now appearing nightly at the Roof Garden of the Hong Kong Hotel.

D. G. S. CHARITY BAZAAR

Attracts Large Gathering

The Diocesan Girls' School Charity Bazaar which was held at the School ground on Saturday was an unqualified success. Those who were present at the function spent freely and had their money's worth in the various forms of amusement. A sum of about $800 was realised.

During the afternoon a portion of "A Midsummer Night's Dream" was presented by Class Four Miss Bedford produced the play.

Before calling upon Mrs. J. Smith to perform the opening ceremony, Miss H. D. Sawyer, the Headmistress of the school, mentioned how willingly Mr. Smith had assisted the school, especially in constructing the new science room.

A dance was held later in the evening, continuing until midnight.

THANKS TENDERED

The organisers wish to tender their sincere thanks to the following firms and people for material assistance in making the function a success.

"DEATH FLIES EAST"

Making motion pictures frequently has its hazards and thrills for the cameramen as well as the actors. Roy Davidson and Harry Perry, special effects photographers, not only had to wear parachutes but were strapped into the open cockpit of their camera plane when filming "Death Flies East," spectacular mystery romance entirely screened in a transcontinental passenger plane, which is showing at the Alhambra, tomorrow.

Because of the clouds hanging over Southern California the exterior views of the passenger plane had to be filmed at eight to ten thousand feet above the Sierra mountains. Davidson and Perry were swathed in heavy wraps and gloves while facing the screeching north wind at that altitude in an open plane.

comedy successes are reunited in a picture that gives them a greater opportunity than ever before to display their particular talent for squeezing the last possible drop of laughter out of every situation.

KIDDIE'S DAY AT KOWLOON

Enjoyable Function At Bowling Green Club

A very enjoyable day was spent by kiddies at the Kowloon Bowling Green Club on Saturday when the annual "Children's Day" was held. The grounds and the Club house were tastefully decorated with flags and greenery with multi-colored balloons being much in evidence. Santa Claus distributed presents in the course of the afternoon.

Music was supplied by the Band of the Lincolnshire Regiment under Bandmaster A. B. Yale. Refreshments were served by the management of the Claremont Hotel.

At the conclusion of the afternoon's sports Mrs. W. E. Hale, wife of the president of the Club, distributed prizes to the winners after which she was presented with a bouquet of flowers by little Miss Anne Jeffries.

RESIDENTS IN SHANGHAI

CENSUS SHOWS POPULATION TO-DAY IS 1,159,775

Japanese Community Increasing Lead

Shanghai, Dec. 11.

The result of the 1935 census taken by the Shanghai Municipal Council of the International Settlement in Shanghai shows an increase over 1930; when the last census was taken, of 151,907 residents of all nationalities, including Chinese. The total figure reached was 1,159,775, of which 38,915 were foreign residents, and 1,120,860 Chinese.

A comparison of the 1870 census with that taken last October is interesting from a civic point of view, showing as it does that, whereas certain nationalities have grown slowly in numbers with the passing of the years, others have risen rapidly to a high figure. In 1870, only seven Japanese were registered as residents of the Settlement; this year the figure has risen to 20,242, including 818 Koreans. The British had in 1870 with 894 subjects, but fell back to second place to the Japanese as long ago as 1915, and can now muster but 6,595; this figure, however, is over twice as high as that of the "nearest competitor for second place, the Russian community, which from a total of 3 in 1870 has risen to 3,017 in 1935.

It was not until 1880 that four Indians were recorded, but they now total 2,341, the American community having to take fifth place with 2,017, a substantial increase over the 1870 figure of 255. The only two other nationalities with over a thousand residents are the Germans, who have increased from 138 in 1870 to 1,113 in 1935, and the Portuguese, who have risen from 104 residents sixty-five years ago to 1,020 residents to-day.

AT THE OTHER END

At the other end of the scale are a number of nationals who have not heretofore appeared in the census, and include two Siamese, one Albanian, one Chinese, one Indo-Chinese, one Japanese, one Dominican, and one Guatemalan. For the first time since the census of 1870, however, it should be added in explanation, the heading "Other Nationalities" has been left blank; this figure fell from 155 in 1870 to 52 in 1925, 6 in 1930, and to nought in this year. As may be well imagined, the figure representing the total of all nationalities in the Settlement, excluding Chinese, has been growing rapidly; in 1870, the total stood at 1,688; to-day it is 38,915.

The figures for the Chinese population of the Settlement, which do not include Chinese living on the Outside Roads, have not shown quite such a substantial increase. In 1900, which is as far back as the figures go, the total was 945,278, as compared with this year's 1,120,860. As it is to be expected, the Eastern District, with its dozens of mills, wharves and factories, is easily the most congested district, totalling 448,450, as compared with the Western District's second place figure of 245,787, and the Northern District's third of 195,094.

For irritable Children

In the "Strand Magazine" of March 1933, the well-known food expert, Miss Kathleen Dane, writes:

"Many children of the irritable, nervous type, owe their state to a deficiency of organic salts, particularly calcium, notwithstanding the fact that the dietary appears to be properly balanced. Such youngsters do well when the diet is reinforced by a well-retained mineral food, such as 'Kalzana,' which medical men all over the country are now recommending."

Your quickly-growing child needs extra calcium to help the formation of straight bones, healthy teeth, and a strong constitution. Start your boy or girl on a course of Kalzana—you will be surprised at the all-around improvement Kalzana effects. Irritability disappears, appetite returns and soon the formerly "difficult" child will be a happy, healthy youngster again.

The Proven STOMACH REMEDY for Bad Cases

Amazing evidence of the remarkable speed with which indigestion and stomach pain can be stopped has been revealed by medical experiments and X-ray photographs of actual cases. These prove the ingredients of "Bisurated" Magnesia to be the quickest-acting and most effective known to medical science. Within 5 minutes a teaspoonful of "Bisurated" Magnesia in a little water produced complete relief in cases where numerous other remedies had failed entirely.

Its Action Explained—

Simply take a teaspoonful of the powder in a little water. The moment this soothing draught reaches the tormented stomach it begins to sweeten the sour fermenting undigested food. The contents of the stomach become as bland and soothing as milk to the sensitive stomach lining. The pain quickly lessens and presently disappears. By following up the treatment after each meal, your harassed stomach will soon learn to tenderize and grow strong, until you can eat whatever you like and enjoy every meal, without fear of wind and pain.

A NOTED ENGLISH DOCTOR SAYS:

"I find that 'Bisurated' Magnesia taken after my meals is the only thing that keeps me free from pain and discomfort, and I take it regularly. I often prescribe it for my patients, and have had very good results."

ANOTHER DOCTOR SAYS:

"Bisurated" Magnesia gives excellent results and is the ideal remedy for stomach pain and acidity. It is particularly recommended for Dyspepsia, Gastritis, Stomach Pains, Flatulence, and even Stomach Ulcers."

EXTRACTS FROM GAZETTE

Amendment To Police Ordinance

It is notified that satisfactory evidence has been furnished to H.E. the Governor of the appointment of Sister Romana Vannersch as Mother Superior of the Sisters of the Society of St. Paul de Chartres in place of Mother Marguerite de St. Paul, Nuss.

It is notified that His Excellency the Office Administering the Government, under instructions received from the Secretary of State for the Colonies, has been pleased to make the following appointment: Miss Sarah Hannah Andrews to be a Nursing Sister.

It is notified that the names of the Chung Mei Garage Co., Ltd., Thurnhill and Co., Ltd., and the Kung Ping Fung Co., Ltd., have been struck off the register.

The Government is inviting tenders for the construction of two covered service reservoirs at Stanley Gaol, and for the construction of an 18-foot road from Kennedy Town to the Military Hospital on Bowen Road.

The Government Gazette states that as only one nomination has been received, the election by the Justices of the Peace announced to be held at the Supreme Court on Wednesday next will not take place.

POLICE ORDINANCE

The Gazette contains the draft of an ordinance to amend the Police Force Ordinance, 1932.

Section 2 (1) of this Ordinance effects minor changes of police procedure by substituting two new sub-sections for sub-sections (2) and (3) of section 18 of the Police Force Ordinance, No. 37 of 1932, extending to European lance-sergeants of police and other European officers of police of equal or superior rank the duties in respect of persons in police custody and the powers as to release on bail of such person, formerly exercised only by officers in charge of police stations.

This extension is necessary in order to facilitate inquiry into, and the release on bail of persons charged with numerous petty offences now investigated by sub-officers who in the mixed police force of this Colony exercise many of the functions performed elsewhere by officers of nominally superior rank.

TENDERS

Sealed tenders in triplicate, which should be clearly marked "Tender of Oils," will be received at the Colonial Secretary's office until noon of next Thursday for the supply and delivery of Lighting and Fuel Oils required by the Government during the forthcoming year of 1936.

Sealed tenders in triplicate, which should be clearly marked "Tender for the New Hospital at Stanley Gaol," will be received at the Colonial Secretary's office until noon of Monday, December 30. The work consists of the erection of a New Hospital at Stanley Gaol in brickwork, with a separate sewage system and covered way.

Sealed tenders be clearly marked "Tender for Stanley Water Supply Covered Service Reservoirs at Stanley," will be received at the Colonial Secretary's office until noon of Monday, December 30, for the construction of two Covered Service Reservoirs, one near the New Gaol, and one near Stanley Mount, and Contingent Works.

Sealed tenders in triplicate, which should be clearly marked "Tender for road to Military Hospital," will be received at the Colonial Secretary's office until noon of Tuesday, December 31. The work comprises the construction of a road 18 feet wide, from Kennedy Road to the Military Hospital, Bowen Road, together with all necessary contingent works.

J. F. FOR COUNCIL

P. & O. CHOICE PILOT

Capt. A. H. Holland Retires After 40 Years Service

Captain A. H. Holland, Trinity House Pilot, retires this month after more than 40 years service, during the last 27 of which he has been "Choice Pilot" of the P. & O.

Although few of the many thousands of passengers he has piloted safely up and down London River may have met him, he has for many years been a familiar figure to the officers of ships trading to India, China, and Australia especially. Captain Holland served as a boy on the river and after the necessary period in square-rigged sail to qualify for his Trinity House "ticket" began his service as pilot. He recalls that in those early days a large part of his work was the finding of the homeward bound wool clipper which were picked up anywhere between the Isle of Wight and Lands End; and it was commonplace then for scores of beautiful sailing ships to be crowded along the River.

SKILL AND ABILITY COUNT
The "Choice Pilots" of the leading shipping lines are naturally chosen for their special skill and ability, their Company having first call on their services to pilot their largest and most valuable vessels. Captain Holland fully justified his selection by the P. & O. by the pilotage of their ships for so many years without a casualty to any of them in his charge. He recalls that the first of the P. & O. ships he handled were the "Parramatta," "Sunda," and "Shanghai," back in 1890 and 1901. The "Viceroy of India" and the "Straths" are amongst the last he served. He resigned from the P. & O. Service recently and was then presented with a silver salver by the Company "in token of appreciation" of his long services "as P. & O. Choice River Pilot."

Captain Holland is planning a round-the-world holiday tour and expects to renew acquaintance, in Australia and New Zealand especially, with many of the officers he knew in the P. & O. ships, now retired or still serving in Australasian waters.

BASKETBALL

The Hong Kong University were defeated in their first encounter in the Hong Kong Ladies Basketball League by the Mid Fong "B" team by 23 points to 9 at the Chinese Y.M.C.A. on Saturday night. Two other matches were also decided, when the Young Chung Girls College were overwhelmed by the Mid Fong "A" team, who secured a total of 43 points against their opponents' 2. The Shuen Sau Girls College once again suffered a defeat, being beaten by 10 points to 29 in their game against the South China Athletic Association.

Officials will be held in the Supreme Court on Thursday, January 18, 1936, from 12 noon to 1 p.m. for the purpose of electing a Justice of the Peace to be recommended to His Excellency the Governor for appointment as a Member of the Legislative Council.

Justices of the Peace who are Government Officials are not entitled to take part in these proceedings. Every candidate must be nominated in writing by one Justice and seconded by another, and the nomination delivered to the First Police Magistrate not later than Tuesday, January 14, 1936.

ARMS LICENCE

The attention of Arms Licence holders is drawn to the new and additional condition of licence appearing below which will be endorsed on all Arms Licences, renewed after December 31, 1935:

The licensee of any arms shall whenever he changes his place of residence notify such change within 48 hours thereof to the Inspector-General of Police, and at the time of such notification shall produce his licence for inspection. The Inspector-General of Police shall endorse the licence and enter the register of licences accordingly.

A GENERALS' SHIP

New Eastern Commanders In 'The Carthage'

London:—Traditionally accustomed as the P. & O. is to the carriage of the Empire's high officials to and from their posts, it is never the less unusual for one vessel to carry four General Officers of whom three are new Commanders for the main posts in the East—India, Malaya and China—and the fourth is the Governor of Malta.

One is General Sir Robert Cassels who is embarking on the "Carthage" on November 15th to assume the post of Commander-in-Chief in India on November 30th in succession to Field Marshal Sir Philip Chetwode. The name of General Cassels may not be well known to the public in Australia, but it certainly is in military circles there on account of the strong views he has for long expressed on the training of Australian staff officers. He has maintained that "those officers should be given a period of training in India at Quetta, and also be attached for a time to the N. W. frontier forces. It may be that in his new post he will have better opportunity than ever of forwarding these views.

GENERAL CASSELS

General Cassels takes up the supreme command in India at the age of 59 after having filled many of the chief military posts in India including Adjutant General and G.O.C. in-Chief, Northern Command, with its frontier operations. He first became a general officer at the early age of 43, thus revelling Gen. Sir Archibald Hunter, who became a major-general at 40, and those officers in the Great War who in exceptional circumstances became general officers at an unusually early age. Gen. Cassels is accompanied by Lady Cassels and their son, Lieut. A.J.H. Cassels and his bride, nee Miss Joyce Kirk, daughter of the late Brig. Gen. H. B. Kirk, A. and S.H. The marriage took place on October 29th at Holy Trinity, Sloane Square, and was the India event of the season, being attended by the Commander-in-Chief, designate and Major-Gen. Sir Arthur Moors, Quartermaster-General in India designate, Lt. Gen. Sir John O'Leary, Mil. Sec. at the India Office, and a score of other high officials of India. The Cassels will be A.D.C. to his father.

AROUND THE COURTS

Li Yuen, unemployed, who was banished for five years on December 4 this year, was on Saturday morning sentenced to nine months' hard labour by Mr. Q. A. A. Macfadyen at the Central Magistracy for returning from banishment.

Chung Chui, a coolie, was sentenced to one month's hard labour, by Mr. Q. A. A. Macfadyen at the Central Magistracy on Saturday for the theft of an overcoat from Wong Tu, a sanitary coolie, at the Public Bath, Pound Land.

Chan Sui, aged 25, unemployed was on Saturday bound over in a bond of $50 to be of good behaviour for one year by Mr. Q. A. A. Macfadyen at the Central Magistracy for the theft of seven bars of lead from the "Kung Sheng Yai Pao," while Lo So, a shop fook, was bound over for the same amount for the theft of a hammer and nail-puller from his master.

Convicted of the theft of a hand bag from the person of Mrs. H. E. Roffner, of No. 4 Conduit Road, on Friday, Chan Ching was on Saturday sentenced to six months' hard labour by Mr. Q. A. A. Macfadyen at the Central Magistracy.

Sergeant J. Shepherd said that the complainant was walking down Glenalee at noon on Friday and when passing the Cathedral, defendant came from behind and snatched the bag. The lady raised an alarm and the Wei-hai-wei constable who was on point duty ran after the defendant and caught him.

LEO FROST REGISTERS 50th WIN

LOCKSLEY HALL PAYS HIGHEST DIVIDEND

Successful Conclusion To Racing Season

The Racing Season of the Hong Kong Jockey Club, was brought to a successful conclusion on Saturday when several close finishes were witnessed. The Meeting was graced by the presence of His Excellency, the Governor, Sir Andrew Caldecott who arrived just prior to the Second Race, accompanied by Capt. W. J. R. Cragg A. D. C. they left later for the Rugby game.

The first Champions' Race saw Able Amazon running a race all by itself, "being never seriously challenged. The second of the same nomination with only five starters saw King's Warden winning from the favourite Gladiator.

Attendance was good and Cash Sweeps dividends were quite satisfactory, but the same could not be said of the pari mutuels.

Mr. Tang Man Wa on Locksley Hall won the first leg of the Daily Double with Mr. Frost winning the second leg on Valorous. Locksley Hall's win paid the highest dividend of the day—$60.80. Even punters were successful in backing the Daily Double and were each rewarded with $129.20.

Faishan, Mr. T. E. Pearce and Mrs. Pearce were the successful owners in the Champions' Races respectively while Mr. G. U. da Roza rode the winners for Mr. and Mrs. Pearce.

Mr. Frost the Champion Jockey returned with three firsts and two seconds and incidentally rode his 50th win of the season, while Mr. Roza was the next best jockey with two firsts.

DECEMBER HANDICAP (1 MILE)

Seven ponies faced the starter for the first race, with the track in good condition and attendance moderate. Soldier of China went past the gate and tore down the wires. The start was slightly delayed. Harvest View went ahead followed by King's Fancy and High Speed. Same places were still maintained right up to the mile post and when near the Rock King's Fancy took the lead. At the last quarter Tiger (the favourite) came up strongly from the rear and gradually forged ahead to win. Soldier of China spurred in the last 100 yards to take second place, with Harvest View third.

QUEENSLAND AUTUMN CHAMPIONS (1 1/2 MILES)

His Excellency, Sir Andrew Caldecott the new Governor arrived just before the Queensland Autumn Champions. Able Amazon the favourite was also in the betting. Chief interest was centred on Vixen Tor and Able Amazon. The first time in saw Night Star leading with Able Amazon and Snowy River in the rear. Up to the 1/2 mile post these positions were unaltered. Then at the last quarter Able Amazon just romped away. Bag Tor, Snowy River and Vixen Tor were all going neck to neck, but when nearing the winning post Vixen Tor spurred and took second place from Bag Tor by half a length. The winner was heavily backed.

DILATORY HANDICAP "D" CLASS (1 MILE)

The Novices Race attracted 13 starters. Flying Tourist took the lead from Popular Star at the first time in. At the football Stand Warrington came up to second place with Heart's Glory third. Flying Tourist still led at the last quarter when the ponies were bunched together. Flybynight had by now come up to the front with Limestone staying a strong challenge. Plain View, the red-hot favourite, came up to take third place with Flybynight first and Limestone second. Mr. C. H. Chiu on Limestone and Mr. Yeung Wing Sing on Solar Star collided after the finish and both fell from their mounts.

HONG KONG AUTUMN CHAMPIONS (1 1/2 MILES)

The second Champions' Race had only five starters. Soldier of Britain led from the start right up to the last quarter. Gladiator and King's Justice changed places alternately for second and third places respectively. King's Warden came up to third place at the last quarter and thereafter forged ahead to win the race with two lengths to spare. Gladiator retained the second position being also two lengths ahead of Soldier of Britain.

LAST CHANCE HANDICAP (1 MILE)

The first leg of the Daily Double witnessed the first surprise of the day. Locksley Hall, ably ridden by Mr. Tang Man Wa, came in first after Tin Ho had led most of the way followed by Forgemaster and Blacksmith.

At the stretch a glorious finish was witnessed. Deemster and Blacksmith were going neck to neck and Locksley Hall came up in the last 100 yards to snatch victory by a short head with the same separating Deemster from Blacksmith.

HONG KONG AUTUMN SUB. GRIFFINS CHAMPIONS (1 1/2 MILES)

The third of the Champions' Races saw the favourite Wadebridge romp home an easy winner. Emergency Call and Sol-fa were in the rear and at the last quarter Double Chance came up to second place but its challenge did not survive against the favourite and had to be content with second place. Valley View shot out to take third place.

TARDY HANDICAP "C" CLASS (1 MILE)

Valorous, ably ridden by Mr. Frost, won the second leg of the Daily Double, and incidentally scored his 50th win of the season. After being left behind most of the way Valorous came strongly out to win by two lengths. Zero which led from the beginning till the last 200 yards came in second with Racing Boy third.

FINALE HANDICAP (1 MILE)

A slight delay was caused in the last race. Atlas went on to a false start and very nearly had Mr. Frost entangled in the wires at the gate. Halcyon led from the beginning to win by four lengths. She finished very strongly. Australian Boy came up well from the rear to take second place from Alacrity by a short head.

INTERNATIONAL XI—BY AIR

London, Nov. 25.

The German footballers to play England at Tottenham on Wednesday, December 4, will travel by air. This will be the first time an international football team has flown to this country.

The journey by air depends, of course, on the weather, but present arrangements are that the Germans will arrive at Croydon on the afternoon of Monday, December 2, and go back on Thursday, the day after the match.

Seat bookings for the game indicate that the Germans will be followed by nearly 10,000 supporters. The chartering of a liner and the provision of a special fleet of cross-channel steamers are among the arrangements being made.

"Musical Chairs"

A.D.C. PRODUCTION RECEIVING FINAL POLISH

"Musical Chairs," the play which the A.D.C. has chosen for its first production of the season, proved, when presented in London, to be that extremely rare thing—a play which the critics were unanimous in praising. It was the first play of a brilliant young dramatist, Ronald Mackenzie, who, like Byron, to find himself famous. He was hailed as the most promising British playwright of the century, and it was a very real loss to the stage when he was killed in a motor accident in France after completing only one other play, "The Maidlands." It is significant that John Gielgud, whose present production of "Romeo and Juliet" is drawing all London to the New Theatre, selected both plays for production, and took a leading role in each.

IN THREE ACTS

The play is in three acts, divided into five scenes, and the "mise en scene" is an oldfield in Galicia, Poland, where the Schindler family, hovering on the brink of bankruptcy, alternate between hope and despondency as they sink the last remnants of their capital four thousand feet into the earth. So cleverly is the play constructed, however, that their quest for all becomes only one of the fascinating problems whose solution keeps the audience in suspense. Each of the eight characters in the play is a real living person, from old Wilhelm Schindler, still fighting for the bosoms of the early nineteenth-century, to Anna, the Polish maid, eager for the lights of London and Paris, and not too scrupulous as to how she achieves her ambition.

A STRONG CAST

The pattern of the play is shot throughout with a rich streak of humour, and more than one line in it became a catchword in Mayfair for a twelvemonth. In Irene Baumer, whose American philosophy combines the inquisitiveness of the tourist with, (if we may coin a word), the hard-boiled amorality of a Mac West, we have the perfect example of a "gold-digger" for experience and adventure, while Geoffrey Preston, her fiancé, is typical of all those hard-working enthusiasts who shine so nobly in the field of business endeavour and so faintly on the field of love. The Committee of the A.D.C. has chosen a strong cast for the production, most of whom are new to our local stage. The performance is now receiving its final polishing, and, from all accounts, promises in every way to uphold the highest histrionic traditions of the Club. "Musical Chairs" will be presented at the China Fleet Club Theatre at 9.15 p.m. on December 18 to 21 inclusive, and seats may be booked at Anderson's Music Store in Ice House Street.

TENNIS

Mixed Doubles Championship

In the Mixed Doubles Tennis Championship of the Colony, Mr. H. D. Bumjahn and Mrs. Chiu Chiu easily defeated Mr. Polglase and Mrs. Andrews on the Indian Recreation ground yesterday by two straight sets. Bumjahn and his partner lost but three games and had the upper hand throughout. The scores were: 6-2, 6-1.

CORRESPONDENCE

Car Park, Tsing Sha Tsui

Sir,—The inadequacy of the accommodation at the existing Car Park, Salisbury Road, Tsing Sha Tsui, is such as to prompt me to write and suggest through your columns that an extension be taken in hand without delay.

Recently, several cars have been seen parked on the grassy plot opposite the Peninsula Hotel, but I am told that parking there is now prohibited. This area is not being made the slightest use of at present, and I suggest that it be properly surfaced and turned into a much-needed extension to the Car Park.

May I also suggest that the parcel behind the Post Office, leading from the Car Park to the "Star" Ferry Wharf be lighted at night?

CHINESE AMBASSADOR TO JAPAN

Shanghai, Dec. 15. General Chen Yi, Chairman of the Fukien Provincial Government, is appointed Chinese Ambassador to Japan in succession to Mr. Chiang Tso-pin, who will become Minister of Interior. General Chen is married to a Japanese lady and recently attended a centennial celebration at Taihoku, Formosa.

The new Fukien chairman will be General Chiang Ting-wen, director of the Foochow Pacification Office, who came into the limelight by defeating the 19th Route Army in Fukien in early 1934. Union News.

MOTOR MISHAPS

Two small motor accidents were reported to the Police in Kowloon yesterday in one of which a 18-year-old youth was removed to hospital suffering from injuries to his left wrist.

It appeared that public car No. 172 was being driven towards Star Ferry and while near the junction of Prince Edward Road and Nathan Road the youth, Li Yau, ran across and was knocked down by the mudguard. His condition is stated to be not serious.

Damage to mudguards was sustained by two private cars when they collided with each other. Private car No. 2957 while being driven out of Hunter's Arms by Mr. C. L. Gregory came into collision with another private car driven by Mr. F. M. Ellis.

UNIVERSITY GRADUATES CELEBRATE

Canton, Dec. 15. Graduates of the University of Michigan held an annual dinner last evening at the Air Force Club, Tungshan which was attended by over 120 graduates and guests. The programme, which included dancing, tap dance by three girls of Patti Academy, and a pantomime was thoroughly enjoyed by those present.

A special dance orchestra was provided by a band from Hong Kong. The non-talking show was the highlight of the evening. The secretary of the U. of M. club, Dr. Y. T. Tang, Chief Surgeon of the Air Force, was the director of the show and a high grade performance was given by a talented cast including Brig-General S. Q. Wong, Chief Architect of the 1st Group Army. ITALY FACES SANCTIONS

Italy has decided to stop publishing details about her financial position—they made too depressing reading. True, it was only a few experts who understood their true significance, and the Fascist Press was careful to hide the truth from the mass of the people. Still, the truth might have leaked out, and its gradual diffusion from mouth to mouth might have damped the ardour of the Fascists. So they are to be kept in the dark.

Meanwhile Mussolini has announced with the customary flourish of trumpets that there will be "reprisals" against the countries which enforce sanctions against Italy. It sounds resolute and determined and courageous and is intended to impress opinion inside and outside Italy with the firmness of the Government's attitude and with their indifference to sanctions.

What do these "reprisals" mean? They mean that Italy is cutting off avenues of trade with the League Powers—which is precisely the object of sanctions. Seeing her foreign trade doomed, she is trying to make the best of a bad job. Better to cut one's own nose off than to have it cut off by somebody else. But the effect on the face is much the same either way.

A severe blow to Italy has been the announcement that Germany will collaborate to a considerable extent in sanctions. She has published a list of products the export of which will be strictly controlled. Austria, also, has so far swung over to the League as to prohibit the export of arms to Italy.

What will be the effect of all this upon Italy? It has already been reported that she has but six weeks supply of petrol, and the price has been raised to an extraordinary level. At the present time, when sanctions have not yet been put into force fully, Italy is finding herself in considerable economic difficulties. But her troubles in this respect are barely beginning.

From Abyssinia there constant reports of desertion by Italian native troops to the Ethiopian side. It is difficult to say how far these reports are reliable, but it would certainly not be surprising if they proved to be true. For whenever a difficult and dangerous advance has had to be made, it is always the native troops who have had to bear the brunt of the fighting. Only when it comes to festal events such as the occupation of Makale are Blackshirt divisions moved up to the front line to share the honour and glory.

Sanctions will take some time to become effective. But, just at a time when they are beginning to tell, the Italian campaign will be at its most difficult stage. Meanwhile Mussolini will be finding it ever more difficult to keep up the enthusiasm of his people for a war which will be imposing terrible sacrifices upon them.

JAPAN'S AIMS IN CHINA

No matter what Japan may say to the contrary, and notwithstanding the pronouncement of Mr. Kelllogg, as reported by Reuter on Friday, Japan's aims in China are only too clear to those who know the situation in China well enough to write about it.

Since the earlier summer, to look no further back it has been clearly demonstrated that the Japanese Military party were resolved at the first convenient season to organise China's northern provinces into a nominally independent state, like Manchukuo, to which it would serve as a buffer between China on one frontier and Russia on the other. Like Manchukuo also, the territory claimed has economic attractions. The northern areas possess important deposits of coal and iron, and the Yellow River Valley, though subject to cataclysmic floods, is fertile and populous. Development of the new State may seem to the Japanese a profitable interest in itself, though we are compelled to assume that it

Madrid, Dec. 15.—Gil Robles, the Catholic Fascist leader, is actively opposing the new Cabinet. He has ordered all municipal officials affiliated to the Catholic Party to resign their posts.—Reuter.

NEWS SUMMARY

The Club drew first blood in the triangular rugby tournament when they beat a strong naval fifteen on Saturday. The game was watched by a large and distinguished gathering including His Excellency Sir Andrew Caldecott, the Governor. Page 11

The Indians continued their winning vein in Senior League Cricket when on Saturday they defeated the Navy by 48 runs. High batting was the order of the day in the games. Club drew with the Army in which Alec Pearce carried his bat for 107. Page 10.

The kiddies spent a most enjoyable afternoon at the Kowloon Bowling Green Club on Saturday afternoon when the annual "Children's Day" was held. Page 5.

The grounds of the Diocesan Girls' School were crowded on Saturday afternoon when the annual Charity Bazaar was held. Once more it was an unqualified success, proving to be a haven of delight for the Christmas shopper, and a seemingly unlimited source of amusement for those on pleasure bent, at the same time. A sum in the region of $800 was realised. Page 6.

Chan Ching was on Saturday sentenced to six months' hard labour by Mr. Q. A. Macfarlane at the Central Magistracy for the theft of a hand-bag from the person of Mrs. H. E. Roffner, of No. 4 Conduit Road, on Friday. Page 8.

The First Dinner of the School of Accountancy and Commerce given jointly with the Hong Kong Accountants and Secretaries Students' Society at the Peninsula Hotel on Saturday night, was a great success. Page 3.

was planned by their militarists as another advance towards the extension of Japan's influence over the whole of China. Recent events have shown that while there are still divergences among the ruling class in Japan the militarists are at present dominant.

In silencing North China from the administrative control of the Nanking Government, Japan's aims go deeper. With the success of her scheme, she thinks that a death blow would have been dealt to the British commercial interests in China. In that she is wrong, British commerce is not deeply concerned in the fortunes of North China. Our traders' activities have been rather concentrated on the Yangtze Valley and the South. And it will take a long time before Japan can ever hope to spread her influence in the South. The Cantonese are too patriotic to allow Japan to have a strong foothold in the territories over which they have administrative control. We have only to point out the fact as to how poorly Japanese fare in Canton and Swatow.

The same, unfortunately cannot be said of the Nanking Government. It has already declared that it will not meet a Japanese ultimatum by fighting. Its chief, General Chiang Kai Shek, told his followers that the hour of sacrifice had not come, and they must be "patient with secondary problems." We may therefore take it that there will be no organized armed resistance to Japan. Whether the new Northern State will be established and succeed as the Japanese expect is another question.

If Gossip We Must

(By "CHANCE")

On Tuesday evening Squadron Leader Keary and the officers of Kai Tak gave a large cocktail party for the opening of their new mess and it was attended by a large and distinguished crowd. The mess inside is exceedingly nice, very large and comfortable and tastefully furnished. The Royal Air Force Band played during the evening which added an air of safety.

Air Commodore and Mrs. Sydney Smith were there, she very smart in a black and gold spotted tunic. Mrs. Keary was charming in a cocktail gown of beige and was very busy entertaining everybody. Commodore and Mrs. Sedgwick, I noticed, also Group Captain Willock and Squadron Leader George, who were both full of enthusiasm about Hong Kong. Mrs. Murray came with her husband and was striking in a black cocktail ensemble with a small hat to match. Wing Commander and Mrs. Bishop were also there and the Philip Smiths, she her usual smart self. We were all pleased to see Col. and Mrs. Marsh making one of their rare appearances from Fanning. Mrs. Harrison chose an ensemble of wine colour and came with Col. Harrison. Mrs. Tower looked exceedingly smart in navy blue and also Mrs. Rybot who wore a large white fur over her shoulder.

The crowd at the Welfare Ball at the Peninsula Hotel last Friday night was enormous, but nobody seemed to mind at all and everybody was in very high spirits and dancing went on until well after 2 o'clock, ending up with a gallop in which most people seemed to join. The dancing was held in the roof garden with tables all round so as the cabarets could be watched in comfort, and supper was served at about midnight in the Rose Room.

The Gerrards, Morris, Jean Bryden and Brenda Kirke were well supported by their friends, judging by the crowd there who showed much appreciation for all the hard work and trouble they had taken in arranging the Ball. Sylvia and Valerie were busy during the evening selling tickets for the raffia which gave them very little time for dancing. Heather Gerrard, as we all saw, did a cabaret turn with "Micky" Branwell which was very popular indeed. Heather looked very sweet in navy blue and white with a large rouching of tulle round the neck which continued down the back. General and Mrs. Thackeray brought a large party and also Col. and Mrs. Morris. Mrs. Thackeray was wearing a beautiful black velvet evening gown and looked most striking. Black velvet was very popular and amongst those wearing it were Mrs. Carrington Sykes, Jean Bird and Vera Crapnell. Mrs. Gerald Portman favoured it too and looked very attractive and her only ornament was a large diamond belt. Mrs. Bishop was striking in flame and she and her husband brought a large party which included Mrs. Cavanagh Malnwarling in pale blue and the popular Mr. Jack Macgregor, Major and Mrs. Thoytes were also in the same party.

Lady Shenton was there and looking very smart and told me the next day how much she enjoyed the dance. Brigadier and Mrs. Seth Smith had a party and Mrs. Beavor I saw with Captain and Mrs. Tower and party. That new crinkly crepe was worn by attractive Mary Drake who looked delightful in pale pink. Betty Gerrard looked very sweet and pretty in dark red and was dancing gaily during the evening in spite of the large crowd on the floor. Ann and Diana Dodwell were there, also Beryl and Betty Fair and Peggy Humphries who chose a lovely shade of yellow for her dress. Mrs. Murray Lewis looked attractive in white, and the same colour was chosen by Mrs. David Kayll and Mrs. Cooper.

A very pretty frock was worn by Rosamund Hancock, pale blue and silver and her sister Honor was looking very happy with her fiancé and she was wearing black with white. Purple was chosen by Mrs. Gibson which suited her so well. Sheila Dewman was in a small party and was wearing a picture frock of pale blue organdie. Very pretty was Mrs. Dowling in scarlet and Mrs. Wolsley wore a beautiful dress of blue and struck an unusual note with her extra large pale blue feather boa which I am sure she must have been glad of. Audrey Steele was in white and was very pretty. Claret colour was worn by attractive Mrs. Cross. Col. and Mrs. Blake I saw for a moment through the crowd, she smart in pale blue. Mrs. McAvoy was there full of fun as usual and thoroughly enjoying herself and Mrs. Thatcher wore pale pink to advantage. Mrs. Simmonds added a bright touch of colour to the gathering with her orange and brown dress, and Mrs. John Ropes I saw looking just as pretty in a smart striped dress. Altogether it was a most enjoyable Ball and I am sure the Welfare Charity will benefit enormously and be very grateful to those who worked so hard in arranging everything.

At the races on Saturday at Happy Valley there was a large gathering being the last meeting for some time in spite of the extreme cold and dullness of the day but nobody seemed to mind very much as they were too busy and full of enthusiasm about the racing. We congratulate Lady Southorn on her win in the last race and it seemed to be a very pleasant surprise for her as she didn't expect to win.

Fur coats were much in evidence so it made it difficult for me to see properly what people were wearing. Lady Shenton was very smart in light brown with a smart little brown hat to match and told me that Yvonne is at last coming back on Tuesday morning which I know everyone will be pleased to know and glad to have her back once more after her long absence. Mrs. Hall who has recently returned was extremely smart in a black suit and a black hat which was the last word in smartness, and a gaily coloured scarf was the only touch of colour in her ensemble. Mrs. Carrington Sykes favoured a check coat and skirt with hat to match and very wisely a thick coat over it. Pretty Mrs. Taggart was in black with a lovely fur coat and she certainly had a very lucky afternoon. Mrs. Oram favoured black and was very smart, so too was Mrs. Turner in grey who was there with her husband, and Beryl and Betty Fair, both looking very pretty. Mrs. McAvoy, whose husband we are sorry to hear has not been very well, favoured a black coat and skirt and a lovely silver fox fur and looked very nice. Mrs. Coltart I saw was also one of those who wisely wrapped themselves up, also Mrs. Marsh and Mrs. Haden. Major "Chips" Davies was making his first appearance at the races but later went on to watch the rugby with Squadron Leader Keary, and I believe several others did the same thing. Pretty Mrs. Wilson was there looking very smart and also Mrs. Alexander. Mrs. Knox came with her husband and Lt. Commander Brookes and looked very sweet in light blue.

Local and General

A successful bazaar was held yesterday by the St. Francis Hospital, school and orphanage. The bazaar was opened at 10 a.m. by the Rev. Father Page who gave an inspiring address on "The Life of St. Francis."

We have been advised that the sale of flowers organised by the Chamber of Commerce and Industry of the Tung Kun District for free schools for poor boys netted $3,310 Miss Lau Woon To was the most successful seller. Her takings amounted to $440.00. We have also been asked by the organisers to express their thanks to all who had so kindly helped to make the drive a success.

At to-morrow's meeting of the Sanitary Board a letter from the Government, signifying the withdrawal of the motion by the Legislative Council dealing with a further amendment to the bye-laws made under the heading "Markets" set forth in Schedule B to Ordinance No. 1 of 1903 (Public Health and Buildings), will be considered, as will also an application for an offensive trade licence to store sharks' fins at No. 36, Nanchang Street, second floor. The regular returns will also be tabled.

While walking along Canton Road, Kowloon, on Saturday, a 25-year-old Chinese male, named Tai Yau, collapsed in the street and died before medical aid was available. He was picked up by an Indian constable and conveyed to the Public Mortuary, where his body was identified.

Tong Chi, a coolie, employed at the Vacuum Oil Company, was admitted to the Kowloon Hospital on Friday in a serious condition, as the result of a fall from a ladder while working in the workshop of the above company.

Hon Kap, a coolie, was admitted to the Government Civil Hospital on Friday suffering from injuries received during a fight at the new Queen Mary Hospital.

The fortnightly whist drive held at the Craigengower Cricket Club on Saturday night again proved very successful. The ladies prize were won by Mrs. Clarke, Mrs. Kiddle, Mrs. Marks, while Messrs. Ecclesall, Brewin, and Evans won the gentlemen's prizes. The "booby" prizes went to Mrs. Wood and Mr. Field.

In order to obtain better information of events abroad, the Ministry of Foreign Affairs is planning to send press attaches to the more important capitals of foreign countries where there are Chinese Legations and Embassies. The selection of the press attaches will be announced shortly.

The forthcoming wedding is announced of Mr. Ernest John Dawson, motor mechanic, Lyemun Barracks, and Miss Grace Aronson, dancing instructor, of 59 Nathan Road, Kowloon.

Dr. H. C. Zen, President of the Szechuan University, and Dr. Chang Po-lin, President of Nankai University at Tientsin, arrived in Chengtu on Monday. Dr. Zen declared that further building operations in the university will start as soon as half the $2,400,000 allotted has been received from the Government.

SEVERE CRITICISM OF PARIS PEACE PROPOSALS

Addis Ababa, December 14.
The Abyssinian Government has not yet taken up any official attitude towards the Franco-British proposals for settlement of the conflict with Italy. The Government's advisers are still at Dessie with the Emperor, but are expected to return to Addis Ababa at any moment.

Meanwhile the Foreign Minister told pressmen that even before the outbreak of hostilities the Negus repeatedly emphasised that he was ready at any time for a peaceful settlement, but it had to be honourable peace for Abyssinia, which had neither attacked the other nor violated agreements.

Several members of the Government declared categorically that the proposed exchange for Tigré could not be discussed. Furthermore they considered it certain that the Negus would refuse to permit Italy to exploit Abyssinia south of the eighth parallel latitude.—Transocean Kuo Min.

ITALIAN ATTITUDE

Rome, 14.
An official communication issued on Saturday night states that an examination was now going on of the proposals made by France and Britain as a basis of negotiations, and will require several more days for consideration because of the complicated nature of the suggestions.

Even at this stage it may be stated with certainty that the Italian Government will require further information about several matters involved. Questions intended to elicit the information desired will be taken up within the next few days.

It is assumed here in well-informed circles that Italy will not make any reply before the Great Fascist Council meets on December 18.—

NEW CABINET
IN SPAINValladares As Premier

(Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press").
(By Telegraph, Copyright, Telegraphic Messages Ordinance, 1894.
Received, December 15, 4:30 a.m.)

Madrid, December 14.
After a crisis lasting a full five days, the new Spanish Cabinet finally was formed on Saturday afternoon. The list submitted to the State President by the former Home Minister, Portela Valladares, and at once approved, included the following:

Premier and Home Minister: Valladares (Independent).
Foreign Affairs: Martinez de Velasco (Agrarian).
Minister for War: General Molero (Independent).
Minister for Navy: Admiral Salas (Independent).
Minister for Finance: Chapaprieta (Independent).
Minister for Labour: Dr. Alfredo Martinez (Liberal Democrat).
Minister for Public Works: Cyrio de Rio (Progressive).
Minister for Agriculture: de Pablo Blanco (Radical).
Minister of Public Instruction: Manuel Becerra.

IMPRISONED MINISTER
The Public Works Minister de Rio, will conduct the office of the Ministry for War for the time being until General Molero, whom the retiring War Minister, Gil Robles, as reported by Transocean, had imprisoned in a fortress for a month, is released at the expiry of his term of detention.

The strongest of the Cortes Party, the Catholic Peoples Party, is unrepresented in the new Cabinet, but Valladares succeeded in inducing the Agrarians to leave the Right Wing by making their leader Foreign Minister.

That Chapaprieta was made Finance Minister indicated that the finance policy will not be changed from that of the last Government.

Valladares told pressmen that he will use all the powers at his command to force on legislation and already held authorisation to dissolve the Cortes at any moment that might seem to him to be necessary.—

Reports that hostilities have been resumed at Kuyuan are denied by reliable Japanese sources. It is stated that not a shot was fired at Kuyuan yesterday, while only sporadic shots were exchanged on Friday. There is no change in the situation. The Peace Preservation Corps and Manchukuo forces are occupying the same positions.

JAPANESE STATEMENT

Shanghai, Dec. 15.
A further conference between the Japanese Ambassador, Mr. Akira Ariyoshi, and General Chiang Kai-shek, President of the Executive Yuan, is expected to take place on Tuesday. It had been originally intended to hold the conference a few days ago, but General Chiang was too busy, and now the Japanese feel there is something to discuss since the northern situation is clarified.

A spokesman of the Japanese Embassy to-day again disavowed any effort on the part of Japan to divorce North China from the rest of the country. The Japanese, he said, are interested only in a settlement which will assure peace and not be inimical to the interests of Manchukuo. Any attempt on the part of China to spread propaganda abroad that Japan has ulterior motives in the area will be deeply resented.

The local Japanese press alluded to-day that General Chiang had given General Ho Ying-ching, Minister of War, $5,000,000 with which to ensure the loyalty of the various northern military leaders to Nanking. General Ho returned here yesterday from Peiping, having accomplished his mission.—

VIRTUAL FOUNDER OF
CZECHOSLOVAKIAMasaryk Resigns Office
Of President

(Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press").
(By Telegraph, Copyright, Telegraphic Messages Ordinance, 1894.
Received, December 15, 4:30 a.m.)

Prague, Dec. 14.
Thomas Garrigue Masaryk, President of Czechoslovakia since the inception of the Republic in 1919 formally resigned from office at noon on Saturday, at the official presidential residence, Castle Lany. The ceremonial act took place in the presence of Premier Hodza, Deputy Premier Běchyně, presidents of both parliamentary chambers, and several high officials.

Before M. Masaryk signed his own official resignation he issued a decree, as his last presidential act granting on amnesty to a number of persons convicted and serving sentences for political offences.

Immediately after the act of resignation, the presidential standard was lowered from the flag-staff at Castle Lany for removal to Kolowrat Palace in Prague, the residence of the Premier who will officiate as the President until the successor is elected on December 18.

NATION'S THANKS

After M. Masaryk's signature had been appended on the official document, Premier Hodza speaking on behalf of the Government and the nation thanked M. Masaryk for the services rendered to the State from its very beginning, until his health had compelled him after having been elected to office for the fourth time to tender his resignation.

M. Masaryk speaking to private individuals after the ceremony had been completed, said that the office of State President of Czechoslovakia carried heavy responsibilities, so that he felt convinced that it should be carried by a man in possession of full bodily vigour. As his own strength was no longer equal to the tasks involved, he was obliged to give up his duties.

CONFIDENCE IN FUTURE

"We need a good foreign policy," stated the ex-President, "and internally there must be strict fairness to all citizens of the state, whatever may be their nationality. I would like to recommend Dr. Beneš as my successor, because I have worked with him and know him. I have full confidence in the future."

The title "Liberator President" has been conferred on M. Masaryk and he has been granted the right of residence at Lany Castle.—

GOOD FOOTBALL IN SHIELD COMPETITIONS

Upsets And Thrills Galore

Upsets were the order of the day in the Shield Soccer games during the week-end; no less than three out of the five senior games ended in draws, in two instances after extra time had to be played.

Yesterday South China "A" the potential Champions easily defeated the China Athletic to the tune of four goals to one. The winners were at no stage seriously threatened and the brilliance of Lee Wai Tong was primarily responsible for S. China's victory. The senior shield holders—South China "B" were very lucky indeed to have survived against the Lincolns on Saturday. But for the excellent goal keeping of Pau Ka Ping fans would certainly have been written to the Chinese' efforts in shield matches this year, as it was they played to a goalless draw against the soldiers.

Kowloon surprised many critics by their win over the strong Fusiliers team whom they beat by the odd goal in five, while the St. Joseph's-Recreo and Club-East Lancs. games also ended in draws.

THE CHINESE "DERBY"

(By PIVOT)

A quick run down the field, Mak Sui Hon's unavailing effort to head the ball—hands against the player and Lee Wai Tong with his characteristic long shot outside the area scored a magnificent goal within two minutes of the start of the senior shield game, practically signalled the end of China Athletic's effort to beat the redoubtable S. China "A" in the first round of the game.

As matters later turned out, Lee Wai Tong was himself heads and shoulders above the rest of his team mates and by his all round brilliance he literally beat the Chinese Athletics by four goals to one, scoring the "hat trick" himself and leaving the other goal to Ip Pak Wa.

The game started in sensational fashion. S. China opened the attack and in less than two minutes Lee Wai Tong had scored with a scorching when from a resultant free kick outside the area against Mak Sui Hon he literally sent the leather to the roof of the net.

LEE SCORES AGAIN

Play then quickly transferred to S. China's territory but the inability of the Athletics' forwards to make good use of their well conceived movements nullified all efforts at scoring.

Soon danger was threatening the Athletic citadel and Lee Wai Tong receiving from Ip cleverly eluded two defenders to crash the ball to the left corner of the net with a swift grounder to put S. China "A" two up.

A HAT TRICK

The Athletics were not to be daunted and attacked on the left wing, but the winger's inability to return the centres relieved pressure for S. China for the time being.

S. China's forwards were working in unison and machine like, and time and again went very near to scoring but Mak Sui Hon and Ip Ka Hing worked hard to withstand the attack. Half time arrived with S. China "A" leading by two goals to nil.

After the lemon, play deteriorated to a great extent. S. China "A" were however never seriously challenged and Lee Wai Tong's brilliant play of Lee Wai Tong needed a lot of improving. However it was once again left to the versatile Lee to provide the fireworks. Snapping up the ball half way in the Athletics' area he beat Fu and Mak and taking deliberate aim scored with a fast grounder. Prior to this goal Lee was fouled inside the area and the resultant spot kick taken by Lee himself, was clearly stopped by Sui Tin Nin.

ATHLETICS ROTTLED

From now onwards the Athletics were playing haphazardly. They could not penetrate the S. China "A" defence and were very nicely bottled up. Though they were attacking for a good deal during the latter stages of the game they were unable to score and from a breakaway Ip Pak Wa breathed the ball past Mak Sui Hon to beat Sui Tin Nin with an easy shot.

Nothing daunted Athletics returned to the attack and from a set piece Young Run Po scored their only goal.

Whilst scuffling as play was becoming desultory.

THE JUNIOR SHIELD

S. China juniors were decidedly lucky to have drawn with Eastern in the second round of the Junior Shield. Eastern was practically attacking during the greater part of the game but the faulty shooting of the forwards spoilt otherwise a good day's work.

The first part of the game found S. China hard pressed but once again Eastern's finishing efforts were weak. In the second half S. China came into the picture but Eastern's defence was equal to the occasion. Final whistle blew with the teams on level terms.

The first few minutes of the extra time found S. China being awarded a penalty for a petty infringement. Their centre forward scored. Much against the run of the play they held on to this slender lead and the last minutes of the game found Eastern equalising through Cheng Sze Hong who snatched up an almost impossible effort with his head to draw level.

R.A.M.C. DEFEATED

At Kowloon yesterday, the Lincolns had little difficulty in accounting for the R.A.M.C. when they defeated them by 4 clear goals in a Junior Shield game.

The Medicals had many opportunities of scoring but their poor finishing was a most pronounced weakness in their forward line.

Setters scored three and Stones obtained one goal for the Lincolns.

EAST LANCES, TROUNCED

In a scrappy game played at the Kowloon Football ground yesterday, the East Lancs beat the Chinese Police by 2 goals to 1 in a Junior Shield match.

The E. Lancs had the better of the exchanges for most of the match and were leading by 2 goals in the first half.

In the second half the Chinese scored their single goal, and missed a glorious opportunity of drawing level when they missed a penalty.

In this half the game was marred by incidents of rough play so much so that the referee had to call the two teams together and warn the players.

KOWLOON WIN AGAINST FUSILIERS

Kowloon surprised even their most optimistic supporters when they defeated the Fusiliers in the First Round of the Senior Shield at Soekunpo on Saturday, by the odd goal in five.

It was rather an unlucky day for the Fusiliers, for they were pressing for most of the time, but their poor finishing cost them many goals. Another factor that played a great part in their defeat, was the splendid keeping of the Kowloon goalie.

Early in the game, Kowloon were lucky to take the lead when they forced a corner, and Rowlands in attempting to clear the resultant kick tipped the ball into his own goal.

MEDIOCRE PLAY

Generally, play was not of a very high standard, and no man in particular was outstanding. After ten minutes' play the Fusiliers obtained the equaliser through Evans, who converted a fine corner kick from Hughes to beat Boyes with a hard drive.

LEAGUE CRICKET MATCHES

INDIANS TOO GOOD FOR ROYAL NAVY

Alec Pearce Gives Good Batting Display

Bright knocks featured last Saturday's League Cricket Games. The Indians continued in their winning vein by beating the Royal Navy by 48 runs. A. H. Madar was in the top of his form and scored 89 runs when the innings was declared closed. Minu and Pereira helped along with their deadly bowling. The Navy lads could not do more than score 129 runs. Lt. Branwell scored 62 of the total.

The other senior game between Army and the Club ended in a draw. Alec Pearce carried his bat for 107. R. D. Gillespie helped along with 52.

The Army replied with 127 for 7. Major Bonavia was undefeated with 55. Bad light put a stop to the game. Three junior league games were also decided.

GOOD BOWLING PERFORMANCES

Two senior and two junior league cricket matches were played off on Saturday. The Indians defeated the Royal Navy by 48 runs at Soekunpo, thanks to doubt to a large degree to an impressive knock of 89 runs by A. H. Madar and the good bowling performances of F. D. Pereira and A. R. Minu.

For the Navy Lt. Branwell scored a useful 62 before being bowled by Minu.

Matches Played In Various Cup Tournaments

The Recreio Ladies were defeated on Saturday by the Hong Kong Ladies in the C.A. Clark Cup by two clear goals.

Miss J. Dalziel was in fine fettle and scored both the winners' goals, while Miss Bell and Miss Glover also shone for the winners. Miss Osmond was the pick of the Recreio backs, while Miss E. Xavier shone in the right-half position. Miss A. Alves was easily the outstanding Recreio forward, but was not given enough support.

C. B. A. v ST. ANDREW'S

The C.B.A. Ladies scored a very convincing victory over the St. Andrew's Ladies in their C.A. Clark game on Saturday at King's Park when they won by five goals to two.

Miss P. Glittens opened the score for the Saints early in the first half, but Miss M. Smith equalised shortly afterwards. Mrs. White gave the C.B.A. the lead and followed up with another soon after. At half time the score stood at 4 goals to 2, Miss Smith and Miss P. Glittens having added one each for their respective teams. Mrs. White placed the issue beyond doubt mid-way through the latter half.

FOR THE BRAUN CUP

In the Braun Cup hockey encounter the Hong Kong Ladies Junior team ran out winners against the "Y" Ladies juniors by two clear goals.

The Hong Kong Ladies did most of the attacking with Mrs. Harrop, their centre-forward, and Miss B. Hance, in the pivotal position, playing outstandingly.

Miss Gordon-Smith and Miss B. Feggy, both made promising debuts the former at inside-left and the latter in the inside-right position.

Miss M. Gardiner, the left-back, played well for the "Y".

FUSILIERS WIN

Playing at Shamshupo on Saturday afternoon, the Royal Welch Fusiliers beat the East Lancashire Regiment by 5 goals to nil in a friendly hockey match.

C.B.A. SWAMP POLICE

A clear cut victory was registered by the Central British Association yesterday, when playing on their home ground at King's Park, they defeated the Police "B" by 7 goals to nil, in a Mamak Tournament game.

With this latest success, the C.B.A. have added another feather to their cap and their standing in the "B" division, reads as follows: Played 5, won 5, lost 0, drawn 0, goals for 27, against 4, points 10.

The match yesterday was featured by fast play, and it must not be construed that the Police had nothing of the game, as they attacked frequently but could not penetrate a sound defence. On the other hand the Association forwards came on the field with their shooting sticks in their hands and had their own way in front of the Police goal.

At half time the score read three nil in favour of the home team, and on resumption of play a further four were netted without reply. The goals scorers were: G. Fowler (centre-forward) 3, T. Whitley (inside right) 2, S. Fowler (right wing) 1, N. Whitley (left half back) 1.

INTERPORT TRIAL

The first Interport Trial in connection with the forthcoming visit to Shanghai in the Chinese New Year, was held yesterday on the "Y" ground at King's Park and was witnessed by a large crowd of interested spectators. The "Whites" defeated the "Colours" by two goals to nil, in a fast, first rate match, the goal scorers being S. Dalziel (Y.M.C.A.) and M. Smith (C.B.A.).

During the game the selection committee were seen busily taking note, and it was announced following the match that further trials are to be held before a final side is chosen. The selection committee are: Major H. M. J. McIntyre, R.A., G. E. R. Divett, and Lt. Mackenzie, R.N.

Outstanding in yesterday's trial were E. Xavier, J. Adey, M. Bryson, M. Smith, while E. Gray and S. Dalziel also played well enough to be warranted another trial.

CIVILIAN TRIAL MATCH

In a game featured by hard hitting, the Whites defeated the Colours by 5 goals to three, in a further trial game, for a combined Civilian side to be matched against the Combined Services scheduled to take place soon. Yesterday's trial match was played before a small

RUGBY

Club Trounce Strong Naval Team

Club draw first blood in the triangular rugby tournament on Saturday when they beat a strong naval squad by 18 points to 9. There was a large and distinguished gathering present.

Among those present were H.E. the Governor, Sir Andrew Caldecott, H.E. the Commander-in-Chief, Admiral Sir Frederick Charles Dreyer and Lady Dreyer, The Commodore, Captain C. G. Sedgwick and Mrs. Sedgwick, Mr. and Mrs. V. M. Grayburn and Col. H. B. L. Dowbiggin and a very big gathering of spectators.

Before the game commenced both teams were presented to the Governor by Lt. Comdr. D. Orr-Ewing, the Naval Rugby representative, following which three cheers were given His Excellency. The teams were very evenly matched but the superiority of the Club's scrum half had a telling effect on the game.

Both defences tackled very well. Bonnar and Butcher of the Club laid the foundation for the Club's success which was helped along by Scott.

THE PLAY

After both lines had come very near to falling, the Club opened their scoring through Butcher, who cut through with a brilliant swerve and side-step to score near the posts, Robertson adding, the points.

The Navy fought back hard from this reverse and Bowman was sent away by St. Clair Ford, who intercepted a pass from Scott to Gallagher, the forward ultimately scoring wide, Thomas falling with the kick.

Not long after the Navy added their second unconverted try through Biggie, who crossed over following an unintentional obstruction of Meke by a Naval Player as the former was about to take Biggie.

THE SECOND MOIETY

In the second half the Club forced the pace and Butcher and Bonnar were featured in several splendid movements, the former eventually breaking clean through the Navy defence from a 25-yard scrum to score between the posts. He added the points himself. Then Fielden broke away on the left and passed backwards over his head, straight into the hands of Meke, who scored near the posts for Robertson to convert.

Though bad marking by Gallagher, who had wandered over to the left-wing, Meke broke away to score the Navy's last points. Thomas again falling with the kick.

FRIENDLY MATCH

The friendly-rugby game between the Club "A" XV and a Navy "A" XV ended in a victory for the former by 11 points to 8.

The Navy opened the scoring through Harris, but soon after the Club scored through Ferguson. Just before the interval the Navy went further ahead when Wright scored and added the goal points.

In the second half, the Club dominated play and scored again through Hynes, who cut through for a fine effort. He added the points to bring the score level. Just before the end Hopkins received from Black to side-step and dart over, but Hynes failed to convert his effort.

attendance on the H. K. Club ground at King's Park.

There were several positional changes in both elevens after the rest was taken at half time, with the result that S. Fowler scored for both elevens, as he played one half for the Whites and the remainder of the game for the Colours. G. E. R. Divett (H. K. Club) played as inside right for the Whites. G. Singh as the centre forward for the Whites played with more understanding than his compatriot, A. Singh for the Colours. G. Sommers and J. E. Potter were a sounder pair of backs than A. E. P. Guest and P. Singh, (Colours).

SEVEN A SIDE

In connection with the T a side hockey tournament, the "Y" Ladies "B" defeated the Recreio "B" by the only goal scored, netted by M. Read at King's Park yesterday. With the completion of this match, all the preliminary rounds of the had ill luck. However, Kowloon managed to break away and Honnibal centred for Knox to increase the lead with a clear shot.

Shortly before the end, the R.W.F. increased their score when Roberts' head 'bored' with a 'kiss' grounder, but thereafter they tried very hard to get on level terms but Kowloon held out strongly.

CLUB-LANCS IN GOALLESS DRAW

The clash between the Club and the E. Lancers, produced some exciting soccer when they met on the Club ground on Saturday and shared the honours in a goalless draw.

Throughout the match play was of an even nature, the ball travelling from end to end. Both forward lines were weak, their passing being inaccurate and finishing very poor.

Just before half time the Club missed a golden opportunity of scoring when Elliott had only Harmsworth to beat, but he was a little too slow on the ball.

RODGER IN GOOD FORM

Early in the second half Sandford sent in a shot which seemed a certain goal. Rodger, who was playing brilliantly, however, brought off a wonderful save, reaching the ball at the base of the upright. The club defence was very much to the fore and Hill and S. Strange were responsible for frustrating many dangerous attacks by the East Lancs Swain, the soldiers' right back, did not appear at all confident and badly mis-kicked once or twice.

Griffin, who played moderately well during the first half, fell off, and on two occasions should have scored.

Late in the second half Mather was changed to the left wing; too late to be effective, though his centring was good.

ANOTHER DRAWN MATCH

South China "B" present holders of the Senior Shield, were given a very hard game by the Lincolns who came within an ace of winning when they met on Saturday; the game resulting in a goalless draw.

Ridley played his usual game and was to be found all over the field, but his many fine efforts ended in failure. Higgins had the very best of scoring opportunities, and though he should have converted a couple, yet the brilliant goal keeping of Pau prevented his almost certain shots from entering the net.

In defence the Lincolns showed their strong points. Prompt and hard tackling by the halves, and strong clearing with a complete sense of understanding by the backs, held the Chinese attack well in hand, and Read was only troubled on about three occasions when he saved very capably.

The Chinese were outclassed for most of the second half, and their harassed defence must have been glad when the final whistle came.

Their halves played well, especially Henry Young who stooped Clayton on many occasions but found his hands full whenever Ridley was near.

SAINTS DRAW WITH RECS.

Saint Joseph's very nearly got the better of the Rees, when they met in a Senior Shield encounter on Saturday, but after a fast and thrilling encounter, the score sheet on either side was left blank.

The game was productive of some good footer, but over-eagerness resulted in many chances being thrown away.

In the second half St. Joseph's began to assert their superiority and Marques was kept busy in dealing with shots from all angles. A header from Leonard, as the result of a corner, went very near. Marques just tipping over the bar. Alves, the Recreio winger, was given a splendid opportunity a short time later, when Beltrao sent him away on the wing with a glorious 'long' pass, but the winger ended a good solo run by placing behind when favourably positioned.

The end saw the St. Joseph's side well on top, but still unsuccessful in their attempts to forge ahead.

The referee called the respective Captains together, and extra time was decided upon, but although both goals had one or two narrow escapes, neither fell.

The referee have now been decided, and this Saturday, the semi-finals and finals will be contested on the C.B.A. ground at King's Park, for the "Pearce" Cup.

HONG KONG RIFLE ASSOCIATION.

Spoon And Practice Shoot

Members of the Hong Kong Rifle Association who took part in the usual Spoon and Practice Shoot on Saturday afternoon had the good fortune to experience the best weather conditions, as regards rifle-shooting, which the season has so far provided; the light was dull and constant, while the wind gave no cause for any complicated calculations, as regards the necessary compensation on the wind-gauge.

Concurrently with the shoot, the Royal Engineers had an "unofficial" friendly match with the members of H.M. Submarine "Parthian," the sailors proving themselves easy victors, by the handsome margin of 60 points.

STRUGGLE TO CONTINUE

Egypt's Demands From Britain

(Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press")

(By Telegraph, Copyright, Telegraphic Messages Ordinance, 1894 Received, December 15, 4.50 a.m.)

Cairo, Dec. 14.

The Egyptian Students' Committee of Management decided to continue the struggle in the same form as heretofore, until England declares her willingness to enter into negotiations with the coming constitutional Egyptian Government concerning the conclusion of the Anglo-Egyptian Treaty on the basis of the agreement between Naha Pasha and the late Mr. Arthur Henderson in 1930.

The leader of the Wafd Party, Naha Pasha, addressing a meeting of followers on Friday night, took the same line, stating that the Egyptian nation would continue fighting until their goal was reached.

Naha Pasha at the same time formulated a demand that the Government should forthwith promulgate a decree fixing a date for the new elections.

BRITISHERS ATTACKED

Cairo, December 14.

For the first time since the riots began on November 13, the Wafd leader, Naha Pasha, called on Premier Nessim Pasha and congratulated him on the restoration of the constitution, saying "let me embrace you," whereupon he kissed Nessim Pasha.

It is understood that Naha Pasha pressed for early election of the Cabinet. The next step probably will be promulgation of the electoral law based on universal direct suffrage.

Numerous women students participated in to-day's demonstration. There have been two cases of attack on Britishers, one who was assaulted by rebels was rescued by students.

The Egyptian universities are reopening at the end of December.

RESIDENCY REQUEST

Cairo, Dec. 15.

Consequent on the incident in which a British military despatch rider was molested by a rabble, the Residency has requested Premier Nessim Pasha to take measures to protect Europeans generally. All British troops are confined to barracks.

The students' executive has called off the demonstrations in response to the appeal by the Wafd leader Naha Pasha following an interview with the Premier but the demonstrations were still continuing this morning. The public security authorities have decided to take energetic action against the mob unless the demonstrations cease.

WARNING AGAINST OPTIMISM

(Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press") (Copyright.)

Rome, Dec. 13.

An emphatic warning against optimism prevailing in foreign countries about the situation created by the Paris Proposals, was uttered on Friday night by the semi-official "Giornale d'Italia" which in its leading article discusses the Abyssinian question for the first time since Saturday last.

The "Giornale" declares that from Italy's point of view, such optimism is at least premature. No change can occur in the situation until Italy has arrived at a definite decision one way or the other, and by the very nature of things this cannot take place at the moment.

Optimism of certain French and British newspapers is not only unjustified by facts but tends to disturb the situation by arousing expectations which if not fulfilled, will result in disappointment and bitterness.

RED CROSS DOCTOR KILLED

Dr. Robert Hockman, head of the American Red Cross in the Ogaden area, was killed at Daggabur when digging up an Italian bomb dropped in an air raid, which he thought was a dud and wanted as a souvenir.

PRESS HIGHLY CRITICAL

Concessions To Aggressor

London, Dec. 14.

The suspension of final judgment until Mr. Stanley Baldwin explains what he had in mind when he said that the criticism of the Opposition would cease if he were free to speak, is urged by the "Daily Telegraph" in a leader on the Franco-British proposals.

The Journal adds that should the truth be that the Government became convinced that Italy was treating the embargo on oil as a military sanction and found on further enquiry that the other members of the League were not prepared to contribute under Article XVI of the League to the "armed forces needed to protect the Covenant of the League," but meant to leave Great Britain to bear the entire brunt of any conflict that ensued, the country ought to be placed as plainly as possible in possession of the facts.

GREAT INDIGNATION

The "Morning Post" declares that the plan is certain to cut certain "monstrous cantles" out of Ethiopia for the benefit of Italy, and there is a great deal of consequential indignation, which the propitiatory speeches of Mr. Eden and M. Laval at Geneva have not altogether allayed.

The "Daily Herald" says that the pretence that the concessions to Italy are merely part of an exchange of territory is dishonest and disingenuous. The plan is a scheme for the territorial and economic plunder of a victim of deliberate and calculated aggression.

WORLD REACTION

The text of the Anglo-French peace plan looked a flood of comment throughout the world to-day. A New York message says that the majority of the papers rejoice at the apparent demise of the plan at Geneva.

The "Herald Tribune" comments: "A cynic may be struck by the curious exactitude with which the non-Italian portion of Ethiopia would be reduced to Lake Tsana and the basin and watershed of the Nile tributaries."

The "New York Times" declares that millions in America and Europe are now saying: "This will never do."

A Delhi message states that both the Indian and Anglo-Indian press is united in condemning the plan. The "Statesman" says that the proposals are already dead. The Neger and the whole world will not have them.

ABYSSINIA'S NOTE TO THE LEAGUE

(Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press") (Copyright.)

Geneva, Dec. 13.

The text of the note handed over the League of Nations Secretariat by the Abyssinian Minister in Paris, defining the attitude of the Abyssinian Government towards the Franco-British Proposals, has just been published here. The Abyssinian Government therein declares that as already stated, Abyssinia is willing at any time to enter into negotiations within the framework of the League of Nations, and is prepared to receive the proposals.

In doing this the Abyssinian Government did not want to put the heavy responsibility on the League of Nations.

The Abyssinian Government, goes on the Note, considers its duty not to undertake anything which is liable to cause, or create a precedent, which might be detrimental to any of the non-members of the League. Concerning the proposals themselves the Abyssinian Government understands amongst other points that she is to receive absolute access to the sea, Italy ceding for this purpose the southernmost portion of the Colony of Eritrea, containing the Port of Assab, England and France undertake to guarantee the integrity of this bargain.

The League of Nations itself is not to be the subjects of any nation bordering Abyssinia. The organs provided for in the League of Nations, plan, both in capital and the reserved zone, would regard one of its essential duties to be the guarantee of the security of the Italian subjects, as well as the unhindered development of their enterprises.

The British and French Governments are willing to use their in-

ARMED ROBBERS ACTIVE

New Territory Affair

After a lapse of several weeks, reports of another daring armed robbery on the mainland was made to the police yesterday.

A dairy situated at No. 12 Diamond Hill was the latest to fall victim to the marauding gangs over the mainland. Wong Po, the 48-year-old widow owner of the dairy stated that on Sunday morning at about two o'clock she had two of her foks sent out to feed the cows. On their way to the barn these men were suddenly accosted by six men who posed as police and demanded to search the house.

The owner seeing that something was amiss went up to enquire and demanded to know what their business was. Unceremoniously she was faced with daggers and wire and brought back to the house. Here the widow's father who had heard of the commotion came out and was at once gagged and bound by the culprits who likewise did the same to an old lady named Chan Por and the widow's children. The victims were then put into the kitchen and two men kept guard over them while the rest ransacked the house and stole four gold rings, other jewellery and clothing worth altogether about $100.

The victims later extricated themselves after the robbers had decamped and up to a late last night no arrests had been made.

HIGHWAY ROBBERY

Following upon the heels of the armed robbery in Diamond Hill comes the report of a daring armed hold-up in broad daylight yesterday.

The victim, Cheung Yuk Ming, a 30-year-old widow, giving her temporary address as 168 Tam Kung Road first floor was relieved of cash, jewellery and a man's overcoat to the total value of $40 at about 12.45 p.m. yesterday while she and a male companion were on their way to Ngau Sze Wan.

Going over to Kowloon at about 11 a.m. the two victims reached Chau Chat Garden, near the swimming pool when they noticed two men dressed like labourers sitting under a tree on the hillside. On their approach these two men got up and allowed the victims to go past them. A little further away they followed on and soon after one of the two men who spoke the Hakka dialect enjoined the victims to keep quiet and at the same time produced a revolver and threatened the victims. The other robber started to search them and from the woman's person were taken a purse containing about $13 odd in money and other articles. A man's overcoat was also taken which was valued at $30. The robbers then made off in another direction and were not seen again.

WEST POINT RAID

Forcing open a door, which was left ajar, three men armed with daggers made their entry into house No. 17 Wu Hop Street, second floor at about 3.30 p.m. on Saturday. Chan Lin aged 47 stated in her report that she was threatened with knives by the robbers, who in a leisurely manner ransacked the house and stole money, jewellery and clothing valued at over $800. No arrests were made.

Mr. Jacob Epstein, the sculptor, is painting a drop curtain for a London theatre for a new ballet to be presented this month. "The work is nearing completion," Mr. Epstein stated last month. "I have been working on the design for two months, and am now finishing the actual painting." The canvas measures 30 feet by 25 feet, and depicts scenes from the Biblical stories of Saul and David. "I hope my painting may be regarded as striking an individual line," Mr. Epstein added. "Most stage scenery and drop curtains are despicable. They are far too slight. The majority of the figures are life size, and those of the main characters larger still. I hope," he added, "that my work will be found interesting, and that there will be a reaction to it. I have treated it as a large mural decoration."

fluency for ensuring this organisation, details of which have still to be worked out here by the League. It is stated they are willing to protect Italy's interests, to the fullest extent in the reserved zone. Transocean Kuo Min.

Sequel To Injunction By Chinese Court

An adjournment was granted by Judge A. G. Mossop in H. M. Supreme Court, of Shanghai, on Dec. 9, in a case brought by Mr. Morris Zimmerman against the Hongkong and Shanghai Banking Corporation. Messrs. H. A. Reeks and Alexander N. Fishman appeared for the plaintiff, and Mr. G. H. Wright for the defendants. The case follows litigation in the Second Special District Court between Mr. and Mrs. Zimmerman as a result of which the Court issued an order on August 28, 1934, restraining Mrs. Freda Zimmerman from making any alteration in or disposing of any properties deposited in the Hongkong and Shanghai Bank, the Yangtze Insurance Co., Swan, Culbertson and Fritz, and other firms. The total value of these properties is said to be in the neighbourhood of two million dollars.

THE EXCHANGE MARKET

MESSRS. ROZA BROS.

The price for Ready silver dropped 7/18 on Friday to 25-7/16 but there was no Forward rate. Silver advances reported America as having taken 18 per cent. of the offerings.

In America the rate was again lower at 80-3/4 for spot.

The London-New York cross-rate was 1/4 higher at 4.92-3/4 and the New York-London rate rose 1/2 to 4.92-7/8.

The official rates were unchanged this morning, the quotations were as follows:—

MARKET

Opened with indications of easiness but later settled up slightly. A fair amount of business was done in the interbank market.

STERLING

Opened with buyers at 1/3-9/16 for cash but offers at 1/3-1/2 were accepted for Cash and December followed by transactions at 1/3-7/16 for December, 1/3-3/8 for January and 1/3-5/16 for February.

The market then steadied up slightly and transactions were arranged at 1/3-3/8 for February, 1/3-7/16 for January and 1/3-1/2 for Cash and December. The market closed with sellers at 1/3-1/2 for December, 1/3-7/16 for January and 1/3-3/8 for February, buyers at 1/18 higher respectively.

U.S. DOLLARS

Business was done during the course of the morning at 31-7/8 for spot and 31-3/4 for January. The market closed with sellers at 31-7/8 for Cash, 31-13/16 for December and probably 31-3/4 for January, buyers at 1/18 higher respectively.

SHANGHAI DOLLAR

Sellers were quoted at 107-3/4 for spot.

SHANGHAI MARKET

There were sellers of Sterling at 1/2-3/8 for spot and U.S. Dollars at 29-1/4 for spot.

Through the flood of last summer, the slope of the Wu Hui Dyke in Wuchang, (Hankow area) one of the most important in the district, has been damaged. Mr. Yang She-sen, the Wuchang magistrate called a meeting of leaders and at this it was decided that as there are 240 Pao in these districts each Pao has to select 40 labourers to work 10 days which means that a total of 9,600 labourers will be engaged in repairing the dyke. Mr. Yang will personally direct operations.

THE SHARE MARKET

Harriman's Weekly Review

Messrs. G. A. Harriman & Co.'s weekly share report issued on Saturday and market review issued states:—

The advantages of a more stable currency continued to manifest itself during the past week, and investors were ready to absorb all that was offering. With the destiny of the Colony in the right hands there is a complete restoration of confidence and the market has at last resumed its natural functioning and activity. It is a perfectly normal condition of every stock market to have its quiet periods from time to time and although the market opened on the quiet side a feeling of greater interest soon displayed itself, and a considerable turnover took place at improving prices. Investment issues ruled firm with Hong Kong Trams done at $14.20 to $14.50 cash and $14.80 January.

Hong Kong Lands were steady at $34 and Star Ferries were wanted at $90. Telephones (old) offered with buyers at $24 but rose steadily to a buying rate of $25, the new shares were in demand at $9.70. Hong Kong Electric, after having been done at $67, hardened considerably and were put through at $69.70. Wharves continued in demand, at $91 without attracting sellers. Dairy Farms remained quite steady with buyers at $19 cash and $19.50 March.

Minor issues on the whole were also firmer. Providents (old) were dealt in at $1.35/1.45 cash and $1.55 February. China Lights were also better with shares changing hands at the enhanced rate of $11/11.15. Cements and Ropes were required for $8 and $4.65 respectively. Rates in sterling currency were again marked up on account of a further easiness in Exchange with sales reported in Banks and Unions at $1450 and $575 respectively. The tone of the market at the close is very steady with persistent enquiries for most of the principal stocks.

BRITISH SHIPPING THREATENED
Montreal, Dec. 12.
The Canadian-Australasian Line, in which the Canadian Pacific Railway own one-half interest, will discontinue its steamship service between Australia and New Zealand unless the three Dominions concerned give the Company adequate support.

This fact was announced by Sir Edward Beatty, President of the Canadian Pacific Railway, who said the service was definitely imperilled by competition from heavily subsidised United States steamers.

The uncertainty of the international situation has contributed most profoundly to the depression in the sharemarket, investors being totally disinclined to consider new ventures.

BERLIN SHARE MARKET
[Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press" (Copyright).]
Berlin, Dec. 14.
The listlessness in the sharemarket continued. Fixed Interest Securities were quite neglected, prices remaining almost unchanged, but Gold Mortgage Bonds were 1/8 to 1/4 weaker.

Call Money was at 3 1/2 to 3 3/4. Young Loan was unchanged at 10 1/2. Reichsbanks rose 1/8 to 176 1/2. Dye Trusts were unchanged at 146 1/2. Salztetfurth Potash were unquoted (Friday 184). German Street Trusts were 1/4 firmer at 72 1/2. German Mineral Oils improved 1/2 to 104. Seimershalske were unchanged at 163 1/2. Bemberg Rayon were unchanged at 100.

The uncertainty of the international situation has contributed most profoundly to the depression in the sharemarket, investors being totally disinclined to consider new ventures.

NAVAL ARGUMENTS IN LONDON

Firm Stand By Japanese Delegation

London, Dec. 13. The Japanese attitude at the naval conference was succinctly explained by Admiral Nagai, one of the principal delegates, who was interviewed by "Reuter" to-day.

The common upper limit, he said, should be fixed so low that no surplus would be left which would allow one power to attack another. They were at least as anxious as others to reduce their naval expenses; but the cardinal points of the Japanese position referred directly to America and indirectly to Britain.

They do not understand why America wants to maintain a large fleet in the Pacific, which Japanese feel implies that Americans wish to claim the right of dictating to Japan in respect to China. This Japan cannot agree to.

The Japanese believe that a datum line should be drawn across the Pacific, and that whosoever crosses it should be considered an aggressor.

Reuter.

A MISUNDERSTANDING

London, Dec. 13. The Japanese delegation has informed "Reuter" that a misunderstanding with regard to their attitude at the naval conference has occurred. They never suggested, and had no intention of suggesting, that a datum line be drawn in the Pacific.

They also denied that the cardinal points of their attitude referred to America.

JAPANESE SURPRISE

London, Dec. 13. The Japanese delegation springs a surprise at the Naval Conference this morning, expressing the nation's willingness that common upper limits apply to five powers, instead of three only, as they had previously maintained was justice.

Thereby the Japanese bowed to the French complaint that France should not be side-tracked, as allegedly occurred at the Washington conference.

Mr. Norman Davis, the American spokesman, indicated the new proposal did not affect the American viewpoint, namely, that the varying national requirements must have consideration.

The Japanese agreed there were varying requirements among other powers, but not so far as Japan, Britain and America were concerned.

The conference adjourned at this stage until Monday, when the conversations will be especially private, only the heads of the delegations attending.

PARITY ARGUMENT

London, Dec. 14. A frank interchange of views at a private meeting last night between the heads of the British and Japanese naval delegates enabled the British to express their objections towards parity.

It is understood that Sir Ernie Chatfield's main points were, firstly, that parity would mean a great British inferiority in the Far East, as a considerable portion of the fleet must remain in British waters whatever the situation in the Far East; and secondly, Britain's heavy imperial responsibilities necessitated a larger fleet to give equality and security.

Admiral Nagano replied, in effect, that Japan also has an empire and a long coastline, and owing to the speed of the modern warship, almost the whole of the British fleet could if necessary speedily mobilise in the Far East.
